With his 25-year track record in various leadership roles at PARI and four years as Managing Director of PARI Pharma GmbH, Dr Stefan Seemann brings strategic foresight and in-depth knowledge of the company, making him the ideal candidate for the new role.

“Many patients, doctors and pharmacist across the globe place their trust in our inhalation devices, medications and inhalation solutions. I am delighted that working hand-in-hand with my colleagues on the Management Board, in my new role as CEO I can continue to contribute to PARI's ongoing success,” says Dr Stefan Seemann.

Michael Hahn is to succeed Dr Seemann as Managing Director of PARI Pharma GmbH. A member of the PARI team since 2006, Michael Hahn was most recently Vice President of eFlow Partnering & Strategy at PARI Pharma GmbH. He comes to the position with many years of experience, far-reaching expertise and a strong network to our partners.

PARItec GmbH, the production company within the group, is also to see a change in management: Peter Cabell, who has previously held the position of Director of Production of Aerosol Heads at PARI Pharma GmbH, is to take over the helm from Jürgen Müller, who is to take well-earned retirement.

Dr Frank Bredl is to remain Managing Director of PARI GmbH, while Derek Kish will continue in his role as President of PARI Respiratory Equipment, Inc. (PRE), the US subsidiary.

With its personnel reshuffle, the PARI Group is strengthening its management structure to keep it fit for the future and position itself for sustained success now and in the years to come.
